

URGENT MEDICAL APPEAL

Help Our Mom, Mary Njoki, Get the Critical Care She Needs

Admitted in ICU at Mewa Hospital, Kingorani, Mombasa • as at 14 August 2026

Our mom's story

Our mother, Mary Njoki, was knocked down by a hit-and-run driver in Mombasa. She sustained multiple fractures in both hips and a badly broken left hand. Because of her advanced age, her recovery is fragile and complex. She is admitted at Mewa Hospital, Kingorani, Mombasa, where she remains in the Intensive Care Unit.

Alongside her injuries, our mom is managing high blood pressure and high blood sugars, and she is undergoing dialysis procedures while a planned surgery awaits her stabilisation. Her radiology report shows preserved grey matter in the cerebral hemispheres, mild atherosclerotic calcification in both internal carotid arteries, and post-traumatic bowel wall oedema.

The hospital bill

Current hospital bill (as at 14 August 2026)

KSh 2,000,000

The bill is current as at today and continues to accumulate for every day our mom remains admitted in ICU. New complications and other contingencies can arise at any time.

Her current medical needs

- ICU care and continuous monitoring
- Multiple hip fractures and a broken left hand
- High blood pressure and high blood sugars
- Ongoing dialysis procedures
- Surgery pending once she is stable
